

Bergen announces sponsorship of Australia Biotech Invest 2020

- Australian life science companies will present at Australia Biotech Invest online
- Bergen sponsors the event for 5th time

Boca Raton, FL, United States – October 14, 2020. Bergen Asset Management (“Bergen”), a U.S.-based global institutional investor that makes direct investments in high-growth public and private companies around the world, is proud to sponsor Australia Biotech Invest 2020 for the fifth time. Australian life science companies will present at Australia Biotech Invest, Australia’s premier life science investment event, to be held online on 29 October 2020.

Given the increased focus on healthcare brought upon by the pandemic, Australia’s biotechnology industry presents a compelling opportunity for investors.

Bergen’s Chief Investment Officer Eugene Tablis commented, “Australia Biotech Invest is Australia’s pre-eminent biotech investment conference. Bergen has a long history of investing in life sciences companies, including companies listed on the Australian Securities Exchange, over the recent decade, and we are proud to be sponsoring this conference for the fifth time.”
